Binding

Find the right book binding option to tie the look of your project together. Our 3 binding options will add a professional touch and smart edge.

Perfect Binding

At Waikato Printing Company we use a strong, high-quality glue to bind the pages and covers of a book at the spine. The three other sides of the book are then trimmed to give that visually appealing, perfect finish.

Saddle Stitched

Saddle stitching refers to folded sheets that are stapled on the folded edge. Commonly preferred for educational resources as the book needs to lay flat so that it can be drawn or written in.

Wire Binding

Used mostly in commercial sense, wire binding allows documents to lay flat when opened and will accommodate various paper thickness, inserts, tab dividers and cover options. Overall, wire binding gives your pages a professional and stylish edge.

With Compliment Slips

Make your customers feel extra special with a branded, handwritten, compliments slip!

With Compliments

Most law firms design their letterhead to express their corporate personality. The justification may be that the firm's documentation should express the firm's professional image.

The problem with professional image is that it arises in the eye of the beholder -- the client. In the same way, your credibility doesn't reflect your honesty but whether the public believes you are honest.

Back to letterhead: when your client or some other person receives a message on your letterhead, what is their first impression? Do they perceive your firm to be friendly, direct, open, and easy to deal with? Or do they perceive your firm to be stuffy, top-heavy, old-fashioned, and a pain in the elbow? Which is the image you want to convey?

Getting your supplied design file perfect, every order

Making sure your file is print-ready is the most important step in the print process. It ensures that your final product looks clear and professional.

Our team of experts will be on hand to help you every step of the way. But if you want to make sure your design is print perfect, look at our guidelines below.

File type

Please send your file in a PDF format. This ensures we get a complete finished file. If you send us a working file (photoshop, InDesign etc) sometimes aspects drop off or don't appear on our end. PDFs are quick and easy for us to work with!

Artwork size

Make sure your design file is the same size as the final printing size you want. For example, if you are wanting an A3 poster, your file should be set up to that size. If the file size doesn't match up with the product size, you will risk cutting out part of the image or stretching it with poor quality results.

Bleeding images

The 'bleed' isn't as scary as it sounds. This printing term simply means the print goes beyond the edge of the sheet. Bleed is important when you want to extend your image right to the end of the paper. It means there will be no white space or blank paper around your design. Typically, we recommend at least a 3mm bleed around your design. So, for example, an A4 document is usually 297 x 210mm but with a 3mm bleed it becomes 303 x 216 mm. If you aren't sure at any point please visit www.waikatoprintingcompany.co.nz/help.

High-res images and logos

Please make sure all images used in your design are high-resolution. That includes photos, logos, and other graphics. Any low-resolution pictures are easily spotted when they are printed so its important that your whole design is high-res. If you aren't sure what images are high-resolution, our team can help you.

Now you know how to prepare your file you are ready to start designing! If you get stuck at any point our team are more than happy to help you.

Alternatively, we offer complete design services. Our professionals will discuss your ideas, then design and print your products for you. It is completely hassle-free! Talk to our team to find out more about our design services.

Using Canva to design your Print Products

This amazing graphic design tool is very popular for its easy drag-and-drop feature and HUGE library of templates. They also have a whole host of stock images, videos, fonts, and other elements. You can do a lot with a free account so it is a great place to start designing.

You might want to try...

Play with Canva

Doc

Whiteboard

Instagram Post (Square)

Their range of ready-made templates for print products includes brochures, posters, business cards, invitations, and CVs. This makes it super easy to beautify whatever it is that you need to be printed. Over the past few years of working with Canva, we have learned a few tricks that will make it a lot easier to send your file to us:

Use only high-resolution images

Canva already comes with thousands of stock images. Simply click on the 'Photos' tab and search for the image you need. You can also upload your own images to use, including your own logos and images. If you are going to download an image from the internet, avoid low-resolution images. When printed, these images will be pixelated and will make your final prints look bad.

Add a bleed to the page

Bleed is the idea of extending the content of the page off the end of the page. Why do you need to add bleed? So that when it is printed, it can be trimmed to look borderless, and have ink all the way to the edge of the page.

Consistency is key

If you are creating designs for a business it's a good idea to save your brand logo, colours, and fonts into a 'Brand Kit' on Canva. You can even upload your own fonts if they aren't already on Canva. This saves your branding online and saves you time hunting for logo images or colour codes every time. It also helps customers easily identify your brand.

How to send your Canva design to Waikato Printing Company?

Easy – once you are happy with your design, hit 'Download' and select 'PDF Print' as the file type, and finally tick add bleed.

Now is the time to jump in and start playing around with your first Canva designs. There are so many things you can customise and make your own and it is really fun to play around with.
